M'LLE Usso's CONCERT.-We regret that he concert at Brainard's Hall last evening was by no means so fully attended as its great artistic excellence merited. The auence present was, however, composed of Cleveland's most appreciative element, and their enthusiastic delight was as high and valuable a tribute to the talent of the performers as that of a crowded house could have been.

Mr. Groscurth, the planist, has a remarkably brilliant and even touch, and though lacking in vigor, his execution, especially of the right hand, is exceedingly clear and effective. In the pianoforte solos he played on this occasion, he displayed great taste and delicacy. The "Spinning Song" was especially a success. Madame Motte is unquestionably a superb vocalist, and in her first aris, "Di tanti palpiti," her unrivalled power carried everything before it. She was heartily acored in her last solo, an English ballad. Herr Lehman also deserves our commendations. His voice is extremely powerful, yet under perfect control,-smooth and melodious in every part.

But the triumph of the evening was reserved for M'lle Camilla Urso, whose performance equalled the most sanguine expectations which could have been formed. M'lle Urso has attained to an almost worldwide celebrity, and certainly deserves it. n manner she unassuming. Her playing derives its powor less from feats of musical gymnastics than from exquisite purity of tone and breadth and delicacy of expression .-Still her technical execution is admirable, and her mastery over the harmonic tones especially astonishing. She received most enthusiastic encores on every appearance, to one of which she responded by playing in fine style a fantasia on "Yankee Doodle." Where all was so perfect it is difficult to specify, but her sing ular power was perhaps most displayed the Pelice Bench yesterday, which has just in the finale to the Pantasia by Vieuxtemps, and in the "Carnival of Venice." The "Cradle Song" was delicately played, and elicited great applause.

No one should miss this opportunity of hope at their last appearance, to-night, to ton of a structure. It will probably be re- in numbers shall do justice to the musical taste of the city.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.-We can not imagine where all our amusement-seekers were last night. They were neither at the concert nor the theatre. A small house was gathered at either place, and particularly at the Academy of Music, where there were great attractions. The play of " Ingomar, the Son of the Wilderness," was presented in a very creditable manner, in which the majority of the company found occasion to appear. We can not particularize in speak-of this performance. The entertainment concluded with the inimitable rendition of the immensest teer regiments, which he joined at the first farce of the season, namely, "A Soldier breaking out of the war, to the same rank in and a Sailor, a Tinker and a Tailor," in the regular service, for meritorious conduct | which those excellent actors, Mesers. Ellaler, Lewis, Locke and Lee, and Mrs. Bradehaw and daughter, appeared in the height of their faculty. Such a supremely ridiculous and laughable performance was never before presented to a Cleveland audience. A fine bill is offered to-night, namely, "The Soldier's Daughter" and the "People's Lawyer."

FUNERAL OF CAPTAIN DEUMNORD .- The latest received Wheeling Intelligencer gives a detailed account of the preliminary arrangements made for the funeral of Captain Thomas Drummond in that city. A citizens' committee has been appointed to receive the remains at the depot and escort them to the Capitol, in the Senate Chamber of which the corpse is to lie in state until arrangements for the funeral services shall have been perfected. The remains are to be taken to Bridgeport for interment, whither they will be followed by a large ARTENUS WARD .- "Yours trooly, A. Ward," has caused his programmes to be cast around loose, and it must be owned that they alone contain as large a fund of humor and fun as the entire lectures of some would-be humorists. We have already announced that this celebrated showman will appear at Brainard's Hall two evenings next week, (Tuesday and Wednesenterprise of the New York Jewellers' Man- day), on which occasions he will treat us not to wax figures, but to a pictorial and verbal, serious and comic description of the Mormons. Our public had better begin anointing their sides in season.

DESARTE AND DERLY. By the Anthor of "Ten Acres Enough." New York; James Miller

The clover author of "Ten Acres Enough," has brought together and edited, in this substantial volume of nearly three hundred pages, a valuable mass of informs. tion concerning the new Kingdom of Petro lis, treating in characteristic style the discovery, development, present condition and future prospects of petroleum, in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. The vast miscellany of matter here and taken the oath prescribed by law, presented, was collected from innumerable ources by a gentleman of scientific and speculative tastes, who has, from the first, been observant and mindful of this new mineral agent which has now become a power in the land. It is the first really valuable and popular work on this important subject, which we have had. It contains an excellent map of the oil regions in Pennsylvania, which adds much to its value.

It may be had at Ingham & Bragg's. History of Junius Casan. Vol. I. By Napoleos III. New York: Harper & Brothers. 1855.

The publication in advance, severa weeks since, of the preface of this imperial work, made so much stir both in Europe and in this country, and provoked such universal criticism, favorable and adverse, that the aim, scope and merit of the book have already become popularly known, and small occasion, therefore, is left for a review of the same here. Every one knows that a gun, was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 its able, imperial author wrote this history of Cmsar for no absolute end, but as a means to personal, political ends. But such is the ability of the writer, his position is so commanding, his imperial career so brilliant, his destiny so immeasurable, that, although the work does not propose truth for its end, it demands and will receive, the studious perusal of all thoughtful men. There are throughout this volume a tone, a build of sentences or mould of thought, which re> posed of or forgotten. The volume is got up by the Harper this country, in a solid, substantial style, ubject matter.

EXISTIBLES AND SERECUES By Gail Hamilton. Boston: Ticknor and Fields. 1885.

Another volume from the dashing pen of Gail Hamilton is given to the public. It contains a half dozon of her papers, which have been published in the "Atlantic," and a large number of short gossipy sketches of the various phases of life, society, art, religion, &c., which have caught her quick sye and struck her nimble fancy.

Gail Hamilton, like Dr. Holmes, car hardly write anything quite flat or dull. She is always spirited, hold, picturesque, humorous, light, siry and, after the manner of the sex, gossipy, on every page, and she will never fail of attendants and followers. The quality of her writing is such that it fascinates, piques and draws the mind like personal beauty. Cobb, Andrews & Co. have this book and all her writings for sale.

THE AUTOGRAT OF THE BREAKPAST TABLE. By Oliver Wendell Holmes, Boston: Ticknet and Fields, 1865. It seems fated that every book which has real most and wine and excellence in it. shall get done into the all-conquering, allabsorbing "blue and gold." It seemed at first the appropriate and exclusive livery of poetry, but, one by one, the fine prose writers find their good things habited in the colors of June skies and October sunsets. We are glad to see that this book, which is unique in American literature, and compares fayorably with Noctes Ambrosianae, has been issued in the beautiful blue and gold edition. The gonial criticism, observation and sentiment with which the book abounds, its pathos, kindly wit, postry, wisdom, truth, and spirit of broad humanity, entitle it to go forth everywhere among men, a piece of golden autumn and of perfect sky. For sale by Cobb, Audrews & Co.

THE HUTCHISSONS .- This pioneer family of singers will appear at Brainard's Hall Friday evening, and sing their bloodstirring songs of Peace and Freedom. The nistory of this "band of brothers" has an interest which is not strictly professional, although it grows out of their career as musical artists. He who costs up the agencies which, in years past, contributed fire or fuel to make the caldron of American hearing these distinguished artistes, and we slavery boil and bubble until, in the fierceness of the flames, the contents boiled see the hall filled with an audience which | away and the caldron burst saunder, as we now behold, must not forget that a score of years ago the Hutchinsons went singing up and down the land, songs of universal freedom. Those songs were esteemed, in decent communities, sound anti-slavery documents, and in conservative cities were con sidered so incondiary that the singers were mobbed or compelled to leave. The Hutchinsons were of the small pioneer party at this office.

The firm having been established here many years and transacted business in the most houest and honor able manner, are widely and most favorably known. Their business has of necessity largely increased from year to year, until now they seem by common consent to stand at the head of this department of mercantile business in the city. They have now on hand a stock so large that one gets bewildered examining it, and they hold themselves in readiness to supply the trade not of this city only, but of all Northern Ohio. The room was filled with fismes, and the dresses of the women caught are. They were so badly burned, that there is little hope for the recovery of either. COLUMBIANA COUSTY .- The Salem Republiun says that on Monday last, while J. B. Ritchie, in Hanover township, was removing an old straw stack, near the bottom he found the body of a man, which had lain there long enough to have nearly all the flesh wasted from his bones. So far no clue has been discovered as to who he was, or when he was thus mysteriously entombed. PROTESTANT HOME FOR FRIENDLESS STRAN-sess.—The above named benevolent organization, well known to many of our citizens, having no permanent endowment, has thus far depended for its support upon spontaneous charity. To meet its expenses for the current year-which are greatly incrossed by the exigencies of war, it is proposed that the managers make personal appeals in its behalf to the business men of Cleveland, believing that a liberal response to this call will better satisfy the present demands than an attempted recourse to an endowment fund. MORNING LEADER OFFICE, Wedshoof Eventso, May 3 1868.} The Gold market in New York to-day was very steady, and dail. The speculative feeling is on tirely gone, and as there is nothing in comme relations upon which to base higher figures, but on the contrary the attastion is decidedly against an advance, the market is weak and the ten ency is downward. The price, however, will probably be maintained at about 140 until the affect of the ness not yet fully reported to Europe has been developed, and if this should re uit as generally expected, and as it doubtless will, in largely advancation. ar Government securities and eres reach lower figures. The average rate to-day has

e.n 1+134 closing to-night at 14134. Tregeneral Stock market continues quite bury sut, and under the elternate manipulations of th bulls and bears, is characterized by rapid and eager landers at uncommonly low rates of inter vanings to operators for a vise, but the indication are that upon the general list the market has about reached its limit for the present.

Government Bonds a esteady and strong. The New York Werld of Tuesday says: "The demand for Fire-awenty bonds is in excess of the supply, some of those who had sold short being disappointed in receipts from Europe. The price in Europe is expected soon to advance to 75, and it is quite likely that the buyers will largely outnumber the sellers at the advanced price." The Tribune has he following observations upon Governments: The European advices indicate a sharp demand of American stocks at no distant day, and at much igher rates. The mediadesing of the assassina-bou of Mr. Lincott may cause a memeatary half on the upward movement, but each subs quest dis-
